

HOARDING WAS REAL REASON

Secretary Of The Treasury Cortelyou Issues His Public Statement Today.

TELLS WHAT RECENT TROUBLES

Were Caused By--Makes Suggestions As To The Possible Outcome Of The Present Troubles And The Needed Remedies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou today made his annual report to congress of the condition of the treasury, showing that from the standpoint of the national government the country is on a good financial basis. His closing statements are significant of the true status of affairs and are as follows:
"Prior to this crisis the shipments of currency to the west by eastern banks for crop-moving purposes had been insignificant. There had been no important shipments of gold abroad so the monetary stringency seemed to be due, in large measure, to the hoarding of funds by owners thereof who had become apprehensive of their financial safety. As the crisis approached the department adopted the strongest measures to give material assistance. Within four days there was transferred from the treasury to the banks the sum of $25,000,000, the security received in exchange being such as state, municipal and railroad securities as are acceptable under the laws of the states of New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and New Jersey as investments by savings banks. On November 11 there were on deposit in national bank depositories—
To the credit of the U. S. $212,958,811.64 To the credit of disbursing officers 13,877,425.40 Total $226,836,237.04
This sum was distributed among national banks in every state and territory of the Union.
"These deposits, and other treasury operations, in connection with the accelerated efforts of the department, and other businessmen, who aided by giving important relief to certain embarrassed institutions and afterwards by providing for the imports of gold, of which up to November 15 there had been engaged more than $60,000,000, operated to prevent a dangerous panic. The secretary of the treasury has made such adjustment of deposits between the various cities and sections as was possible in such a time of financial stress, and through the cooperation of eastern bankers has secured the transfer, through the usual commercial channels, of large sums of money to the south, the west, the northwest, and the Pacific coast. There was, however, great financial distress in many sections of the country and a remarkable scarcity of currency. The clearing houses in nearly all the prominent cities of the United States felt obliged to adopt such measures of relief as they found available. The remarkably sound and prosperous condition of the country would seem to warrant the belief that the strain will leave behind no extensive business depression.
"When the story of the recent commercial and industrial stagnation has been fully told, it is evident that many misapprehensions will be cleared away and that the interdependence of all sections of the country will be more fully understood. It is said that many of our people have hoarded money. This is undoubtedly true; but so have many of the banks. We hear little, however, of the untold numbers of patriotic citizens who, knowing that the banking situation throughout the country was essentially sound, did not allow themselves to be influenced by the excitement of the moment, but cooperated with national banks, savings banks, trust companies, and other institutions to support credit and restore confidence.
"The secretary of the treasury has given wide discretion in many matters wherein he is rarely called upon to exercise it, and little, if any, in other where it is needed daily, particularly as to certain of those having to do with the vitally important subject of our currency. In times of emergency his hands are virtually tied. If in such periods of stress, in an effort to avert calamity and serve the interests of all the people, he is obliged to resort to unusual measures, criticism is unfortunately in many instances directed not to the inadequacy of the system, but solely to the effort to give relief, even though it be successful in accomplishing that purpose. It should not be forgotten that he has to deal with the practical rather than the theoretical side of the currency question. The failure of the adherents of the various suggested plans to agree upon a practical measure would hardly appear to be a sufficient reason for holding him responsible for their indecision and inaction. The laws under which he administers his office should be made to meet the daily needs of the people, and his duties, sufficiently onerous as they are, should not be made more burdensome by restrictions which leave him with the responsibility, but with no adequate means at his disposal to meet it.
"What has happened not only this year, but many times before, should serve as a admonition to enact laws for the prevention of the future of disorders due in part at least to the imperfect organization of our monetary system. Admittedly it has been of great service to our people, but with changing conditions there has become more apparent each year the need for improvement of a substantial and permanent character. If no action is thought advisable at this time fully to meet this need, I deem it important that something be done as speedily as may be consistent with thorough consideration to provide under government guaranty a greater elasticity to the currency—something which shall be automatic in its operation and which shall tend to equalize rates of interest not only in different sections of the country, but at different periods of the year. Provision should be made either for such elasticity without the necessity of intervention on the part of the secretary of the treasury or he should be granted the authority to supply it by properly safeguarded measures. I believe that simplicity of plan and promptness of action are what the people need and will demand. What particular form this proposed legislation should take must be left to the action of the congress. I have no pride of opinion as to the method, but I have the deepest concern that the result shall be adequately beneficial.
"The only specific recommendation I would make at present is that it be given prompt attention, and that it be not laid aside until some definite means of relief shall have been enacted into law.
"Owing to the unusual demands made on the various officials of the department, and particularly on the force of my own immediate office, during the past month, I have been unable to embrace in this report several topics upon which data have been collected and to which I had intended to refer at some length. These matters will be made the subjects of future reports for the information of the congress."

GOVERNOR FAVORS SYSTEM FOR INSURING STATE BANKS

If Federal Government Plan For National Banks Is Carried Out--Thinks Measure Would Be Imperative.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 5.—Governor Davidson made a public declaration today advocating a state system for insuring depositors in state banks substantially in the same manner in which the proposed federal law will insure depositors in national banks. He declares that if the federal government establishes a system by which depositors can not possibly suffer loss by failure of national banks, then state banks, of which there are 430 in Wisconsin, should be driven out of business because depositors would all go to national banks. "Why would we have a kind of law that would be a kind of tax on bank deposits to make a fund to be drawn upon in case a bank failed,"

Mr. Financial Question—Now, if you are going to help me, please don't try to talk me to death. When Congress meets it will immediately talk upon the currency reform problem.—News Item.

KANSAS CITY BANK IS IN TROUBLE NOW

Oldest Institution in the City Goes In to Receivers' Hands This Morning.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 5.—The National Bank of Commerce failed to open its doors this morning and is in the hands of the national bank examiner. The bank is the oldest one here and is the largest financial institution in the city. The bank has been in a weakened condition since its last statement of August 22, when it was stated the institution owed the clearing house close to a million dollars.
Deposits Had Decreased
Since August the deposits have fallen on fifty per cent and were at the present time reduced to $16,543,000. Dr. W. T. Woods is president of the Bank of Commerce and also president of the Commerce Trust company which has a capital of a million dollars and deposits of nearly a million and a half. Since its last statement the assets of the bank have been reduced nearly two hundred thousand dollars, and that institution is believed to be in sound condition. James P. Downing, head of the local clearing house association, expressed a belief that the failure would not involve deeply any Kansas City institution. The Bank of Commerce held the deposits of numerous small banks in this part of the southwest. What effect the failure will have upon them is problematic. It was a U. S. depository and was interested in many local enterprises. William A. Tate, cashier of the bank, said this morning that the depositors would not be a cent, in which statement President Woods also joined.
Branches Closed
Two small branches of the National Bank of Commerce—the Stockyards Bank of Commerce with deposits of three hundred thousand and the Union Avenue Bank of Commerce with small deposits—also closed their doors. The failure of these banks did not cause runs on any of the other banks.
Suburban Bank Fails
The State Bank of Argonne, Kas., a suburb, with small deposits, closed its doors early this afternoon following a run. The stock in the bank is owned principally by the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City.

Although far from being the oldest member so far as age is concerned, Mr. Bingham is the senior member of the House in point of service. He has just entered upon his fourteenth consecutive term. Speaker Cannon has served longer in the House, but he missed the fifty-second congress, thus making a gap in his record of sixteen terms.

TURNING OUT PLUM PUDDINGS BY TON

England, the World's Great Christmas Baker, Is Making 100,000 of Them For Herself and Colonies.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Dec. 5.—The plum pudding industry, of which England has a monopoly, is enjoying its usual boom with the approach of Christmas. From London tons of festive pudding find their way all over the world at this season of the year. Many are ordered as Christmas presents for friends in the United States. Many more go to Canada and to Australia, Africa and other parts of the British empire. One leading firm, according to reports, sends abroad each Christmas more than 300 tons of plum pudding, amounting to about 100,000 puddings. The old custom of putting a three penny bit in the family plum pudding has of late years developed into a very expensive fashion. Costly jewelry and ornaments are now often inserted in the heart of the pudding.

A majority of the passengers on the two Pullman cars were injured, thirteen so seriously as to require medical attention. TIME AND PLACE OF G. O. P. CONVENTION

Will be Selected by the National Committee Tomorrow—Many Cities In Line for the Honor.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The first ball in the race for the republican presidential nomination of 1908 will be set rolling tomorrow, when the national committee meets in this city to select the time and place for holding the national convention. More than half a dozen cities are contesting for the honor of entertaining the delegates and the crowds of shouters and onlookers. Delegations representing these cities are already arriving in Washington in readiness to present their applications to the national committee. The majority of the party leaders appear to be of the opinion that either Chicago or Kansas City will be selected as the convention meeting place, with the latter city standing a good chance of winning the plum. St. Louis, Denver, Pittsburgh, Atlantic City and possibly one or two other cities will also submit bids. The members of the national committee who have arrived for the meeting desire to commit themselves in the matter. Following precedent, a date early in June probably will be selected for the big gathering.

SEEK TO PROMOTE UNCLE SAM'S FOREIGN COMMERCE

Representatives Of Twenty Of Leading Cities Of United States Are In Conference In Washington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—At the invitation of Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, representatives of the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of twenty of the leading cities of the United States assembled in conference here today to discuss ways and means for promoting the country's foreign commerce. The meeting is the first of a series of similar conferences planned by Secretary Straus. The chief purpose is to establish closer relations between the commercial bodies of the country and the Department of Commerce and Labor. So many cities are interested in the movement for the extension of American commerce abroad that it was found impossible to accommodate delegates from all at one conference. Those invited to participate in the present conference included the commercial organizations of Chicago, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, New York, Atlanta, New Orleans, Boston, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Pittsburgh, Galveston, Richmond, Seattle, Milwaukee, Portland (Ore.), and Charleston (S. C.). The idea of these conferences is to crystallize the work of extending the United States' foreign commerce in manufactures, and they will be held during the winter for the effect their action is expected to have on congress. Although the work of extending foreign commerce has been largely increased during the past few years, especially since the organization of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and of the Bureau of Manufactures, at the same time the United States is far behind other countries in its study of commercial conditions, and its efforts to push the sale of its manufactured products. Secretary Straus will tell the conference of the results already achieved by his department and will ask the views of the commercial representatives on the further development of practical plans for rendering the department of greater service to the commercial interests of the country.

TRIO OF YANKEES WILL BE SHOT BY MEXICANS

Friday, At Yard Of Chihuahua, Unless Diaz Grants An Eleventh-Hour Reprieve.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
El Paso, Texas, Dec. 5.—Unless President Diaz grants an eleventh hour reprieve, the three American murderers, Mason, Harle and Richardson, will be shot to death at an early hour tomorrow morning in the Mexican prison at Chihuahua. The case has been in the Mexican courts five years and has attracted widespread attention on both sides of the international boundary line.
The three Americans were convicted of murdering two men at Chihuahua for life insurance money, Richardson being the insurance agent, Mason, his brother-in-law, the assistant agent, and Harle, the examining physician. They murdered a man named Dovers, decoyed from El Paso, and another man, named Mitchell, said to be half-brother of Mason. The arrests took place in El Paso and the men were extradited from here. Harle was formerly an El Paso physician.
Richardson, whose true name is Hulbert, was the ringleader in the conspiracy. He was a Rochester lawyer who ran away to Mexico with seven indictments over his head for running a "divorce mill." Mason was another Rochester lawyer who followed him later. With the help of Dr. Harle, they poisoned their two victims with strychnine after having caused them to be insured in the New York Life Insurance Company. Upon their death they collected $25,000 on the policies.
After the murders the gang, except Harle, moved to Texas. In the fall of 1902, while looking over some Mexican policies, the solicitor-general of the insurance company noticed a peculiar coincidence in two Chihuahua claims. The claims came through the same agent, Richardson, and were certified by the same doctor, Harle, and in both cases Dr. Harle had been the examining physician. The men had both died after short illnesses. One of them, Harry Mitchell, insured for $15,000, had died on February 11. The other, James Dovers, who was insured for $10,000, died on February 22. Yet the Mitchell claim was presented in February, and the Dovers claim not until July. In both cases the insured had no other relatives than the beneficiary. In the first case the beneficiary was Hulbert's wife; in the second case it was William Mitchell, who posed as Dovers' half-brother.
Upon investigation it was shown that the men had died and been buried as stated. Then the check for the Dovers claim was returned to the New York bank. It was indorsed by C. T. Richardson, otherwise Hulbert. The other had been previously paid to Hulbert's wife, the murdered Harry Mitchell's sister.
After the gang had removed to Dallas, Texas, a detective named Gray was sent to that city and fitted out as a lumber merchant. One day Hulbert spoke to Gray's little girl. The men met, became intimate, and Hulbert broached a scheme to cheat the insurance company out of $50,000. He said he had had experience. Gray proposed that they insure his brother-in-law as a beginning. A broken-down detective named Evans was imported by Gray as his brother-in-law. He was dying of consumption. Mason posed as Evans' and two reputable physicians examined him and pronounced him a good risk.
The whole crowd, including Gray, was arrested within a few weeks. A fellow-detective had already overheard Mason and Hulbert scheming to kill off Gray. By accident, in the prison in this city, Mason discovered Gray's true identity.
He at once went into a sham cataplectic fit that lasted two months. During that time he didn't move from his bed and defied all the usual tests of the physicians. At last, they mixed his daily milk with whiskey. He became drunk, jumped off his cot and swore at everybody in sight.
Finally, Dr. Harle, who was still in Chihuahua, was induced to come into the United States and was arrested. He was put through the third degree and made a confession about his connection with the two crimes. The proceedings against Mason and Richardson on the Dallas plot were dropped. They were extradited to Mexico and tried for murder. Since their conviction they have carried the case to the highest courts of Mexico and have exhausted every twist and turn known to the law to escape their fate. It now appears that here execution, after the lapse of five years since the commission of their crimes, is a certainty.

Rev. Wm. Eckert of Racine Delivered First of Series of Lectures on Missions at St. Peter's Church.

An audience that comfortably filled St. Peter's English Lutheran church listened to an interesting lecture on "India in Transition, or Marvels in the Orient," delivered by Rev. Wm. Eckert of Racine, last evening. That this minister has made a study of foreign missions was very evident to those who heard him last evening, he having held his homilies' close attention for nearly two hours. The talk was beautifully illustrated with stereoscopic slides which aided the speaker very much in showing the conditions in India in the past as well as the present. The lecture last evening was the first of a series of five, the second of which is to be given by Rev. P. E. Juelander of Koshong on January 8. The topic is "An Evening in China, or the Open Door in the Celestial Empire."

SEES NO NECESSITY OF SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Davidson Feels No Alarm Over Withdrawal of Insurance Concerns From the State.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 5.—Governor Davidson declares that the suggestion that a special session of the legislature be called to revise the insurance laws passed at the last regular session is ridiculous. He declares that the only attention in which a special session might be excusable would be one in which the people would be unable to provide themselves with protection, and no approach has yet been made toward such a situation.

The action of the New York Life Insurance company in declaring its purpose to comply with the new Wisconsin laws in a manner satisfactory to the state insurance department and the attorney general demonstrates that compliance with the Wisconsin reform laws is not impossible, as was represented by the New York Mutual in its declaration of withdrawal. It is said that the Equitable will probably follow the New York Life in continuing in the field in Wisconsin, although the recent letter of Commissioner Beadle to President Paul Morton of the Equitable was almost absolutely adverse to the suggestions made by that company with regard to the interpretation and enforcement of the new laws.

of the Janesville merchants is exceptionally fine this year. There is no need for the would-be purchaser going to any of the adjacent cities to find just what is wanted and just how to get it. The real art of the Christmas shopping is to start early and have everything ready before the last few hours. There are but seventeen days more before Christmas and the time is short. Start now, do your shopping early and the advantage will be soon.

PROGRESS AVOIDS EXTREMES.
One of the peculiarities of the progress which this country has made since it became an independent nation is the fact that many of the fears which the people entertained for its future have not been confirmed by events, and many of the inordinate hopes which people have indulged have never been realized.

Probably the reason is that the everyday man and woman, on whose labor the productivity of the country depends, are not subject to those states of mind which forget the rock from which all substantial prosperity must be cut. It is better for all of us if the fact could be kept in mind that the normal line of prosperity is found of keeping the middle of the road. It was Ibsen who said that "people talk themselves into believing the thing that is not," and in these days of rumors it is easy to make an intimation take the place of a fact until the vaguest kind of fancy can take possession of people's minds as to rob them of the power of distinguishing sense from nonsense.

In the long run, the progress of the country has never undergone more than a temporary interruption from any panic, no matter when or where it struck its path. It has never taken long, as the curves of increase show, to regain all the lost ground and to rise far above the basis to which the most abrupt and trying recession reduced the business of the country. What is needed now is more of the historic sense to see how insignificant a proportion of the periods of our history has been encumbered with panics.

Janesville is not the only city to have a pedestrian club. Look at Milwaukee's Boy Mayor. He started to take the jaunt from his native burg to the Big City and fell by the way-side. However, the Open Window Band of Hope Club still keeps up its daily perambulations despite the weather.

Old Santa Claus is waiting for his little friends in Janesville to write him. They can do so by sending their letters to the Gazette so as to reach him before the 18th.

Congressman Cooper made his stand, the democrats said good and chuckled in their sleeves while the republicans sang out sour grapes.

RAILWAY PRESIDENTS
ENDORSE THE MOVE

Great Gathering of River and Harbor Improvement Enthusiasts in Washington This Week.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The appearance on the same platform at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress this week of President Taft of the Southern Railway, President James J. Hill of the Great Northern Railroad, and Ambassadors Jassorand and von Stenberg was a notable affair. The railroad magnates were pleading for action by the federal government similar to the action taken by France and Germany. They pointed out the necessity for an intelligent development of waterway transportation as a means of adding the railroads of the country and preventing costly and dangerous congestion of traffic.

On the other hand, Ambassador Jassorand dwelt upon the highly developed rivers and canals of his country and the assistance they were to the railroads and to every branch of business life. Ambassador von Stenberg drew the same picture of the great advantage to German farmers and manufacturers the canalized rivers and artificial waterways of his country had proved themselves to be. Such a thing as congestion of traffic practically is unknown on the German railways, and delivery of important goods in both countries is accelerated because the railways do not have to burden their lines with long trains of heavy freight.

In an interview Mr. Hill, the "Builder of the Northwest," dwelt upon the "urgent necessity" for some method of transportation that will relieve the railroads of the United States as the railroads of France and Germany are relieved. Business is outstripping in growth the development of means to handle it. The situation is daily growing more aggravated, and unless prosperity will give way to panic and hard times, investigation solely by the cutting off of markets to the producer by reason of traffic congestion.

The railroad man declares that the products of field, factory and mine are increasing each year from 10 to 15 per cent. The transportation facilities necessary to handle this increase are growing only 2 1/2 per cent each year. It requires little figuring to ascertain that within a brief time the railroads will be so swamped that account to the markets will practically be denied producers of food-stuffs, coal and ores, for the railroads will move higher class and consequently better paying freight in preference.

Again, taking Mr. Hill's conservative estimate of a yearly increase of production of 10 per cent, it would be imperative that in the next decade the railroad mileage of the country be doubled to care for this increase. This is manifestly impossible. The present great railroad system of the United States took years on years to build and perfect, and billions were expended. It must be understood, too, that the present lines were constructed during years of high freight and passenger rates and with the aid of government, state and township subsidies. Now the railroads are encompassed by conflicting state laws, ruled by the Interstate Commerce commission, and are facing further drastic federal legislation. Capital is not going to be liberal under such circumstances, however necessary and salutary they may be.

The logical solution of the problem is to be found in waterways development. Consequently, the convention here this week promises to mark an epoch in this work. The government is aroused to the necessity for it, and the American people have spoken in no uncertain tones.

DETECTIVE HERE FOR PRISONERS

Officer James Conick Arrived from Chicago This Morning—Steeper Wanted for Robbing Father.

Officer James Conick of the Chicago detective bureau came to Janesville this morning to get Edward Steeper, alias Davis, wanted for the theft at midnight on December 3 of $100 from his father, Mack Steeper, who resides at 213 East Twenty-second street, and who was taken from the six o'clock North-Western train by City Marshal Appleby and Patrolmen Morrissey and Mason Tuesday morning. The detective says that the father is a tailor with a large family; that the money taken from him represented the accumulated savings of many weary months but that the youth has given him much trouble on many former occasions; and that he (the father) is determined to have him sent to the penitentiary. The State would not issue a warrant for Steeper's capture, John Schmidt—a prize-fighter of some local reputation in the Windy City—owing to the fact that there was nothing to show that he was implicated in the crime in any way beyond, perhaps, allowing Steeper to buy a ticket to Spokane for him with a part of the ill-gotten spoils. But when he learned that masks were found on the latter person, he decided to take him in tow without a warrant. The woman's pocketbook which contained the money are two handsome gold watches and a small diamond ring and the wife will probably be called upon to give some adequate explanation as to where they came from.

"We have had three cases of 'stealing' work in the elevated station recently," said the detective in discussing the matter, "and these masks furnish a suspicion, at least, that the pair may have had something to do with them. We have also received notices that Steeper and a woman out in Spokane are preparing to carry out a big job out there."

Mr. Conick is one of the best known detectives in the middle west. The capture of many notorious criminals are accredited to him, among them Ed Tate, the gentleman burglar wanted for big safe-cracking exploits in Peoria, whom he recently captured in New York; Frank Brown, alias Norton, the notorious porch-lifter who executed a $10,000 diamond robbery in Brooklyn; and others. Brown escaped after the detective had landed him in a New York prison and there is a standing offer of $1,000 for his capture. Not long ago the Chicago officer went to San Francisco to get a man named Bornstein, who was wanted for a big job in the middle west. He learned after he got there that the real offender was Eddie Fay, who is rather vividly remembered in Janesville.

MISS LOUISE BERGER AND F. P. ALBRECHT

Were Happily Wedded at the Home of the Bride's Brother on South Franklin Street Last Evening.

Miss Louise Berger and Frank P. Albrecht were wedded at the home of the bride's brother, Frank Berger, 653 South Franklin street, at seven o'clock last evening. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. J. Koerner under an arch of green and white and was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk, carried a bouquet of bride's roses, and was attended by Miss Vina Berger of this city, a sister. Robert Albrecht was best man. Following the congratulations an elaborate wedding supper was served and thereafter the happy couple boarded the 12:20 train for a honeymoon trip to La Crosse, Milwaukee, and other cities. They have rented the home at 403 South Franklin street and will start housekeeping there upon their return. The bride came here from Lake Mills and was until recently employed in the Bort, Bailey & Co. store. She, as well as the groom, who has been in the employ of the Janesville Bleeder Co. since he came to this city from La Crosse, has a host of friends in Janesville who wish them all possible happiness in the new life.

Noted Men Fond of Cats.

The cat has always been a pet in various countries of the world, and notable men have not been ashamed to admit their affection for poor pussy. Cardinal Richelieu delighted to watch kittens playing, and every three months had a fresh supply brought to replace those kittens who were growing into cathood. Chateaubriand was also a cat lover, and the pope of the day gave him a lovely tortoiseshell cat called Micoletto, says Home Notes.

Family Telephone Signals.

In a busy family where there are numerous telephone calls a simple device has saved steps and calling. The telephone is between dining room and kitchen, where the one maid can answer it easily. Beside it is a button controlling a small bell in the upstairs hall. Each member of the family has his or her particular number, as 1-2, 1-3, 1-4, etc., which the maid rings whenever a message comes. If there is no response she knows the person called for is not at home.

KING OSCAR SERIOUSLY ILL.

Crown Prince Made Regent—Disensions in the Cabinet.

Stockholm, Dec. 5.—A serious situation has arisen in Sweden. King Oscar, who is nearly 80 years of age, is in such ill health that he has been compelled to hand over the reins of government to Crown Prince Gustave, who was formally appointed regent Wednesday. The illness of the king is such that there is little hope for his ultimate recovery, his heart and kidneys being seriously affected.

Disensions in the cabinet have arisen which have resulted in the resignation of the minister of war, Col. L. H. Tingssten; Minister of the Interior Julian and Admiral Dyrssen, minister of marine. Premier Lindman will take temporary charge of the war office and Count Ehrensvaerd and Count Hugo Hamilton were sworn in Wednesday as minister of marine and minister of the Interior, respectively.

FLEEK'S ANNEX

Owing to the constant increase in our Jewelry Dept., and the crowded condition of our store, we have decided to close out our Art Department and hereafter continue with Jewelry and Music alone. This conclusion has been reached with no small amount of regret as this department of business has always been one of the most remunerative and pleasant. With the fact before us that we must have more room to properly display our Jewelry Department we have cleared out part of our piano room and for a few weeks will devote it to the Art Goods as an annex to our store. We have placed in this room the entire line of Pictures and Frames of all kinds, Vases, Potteries, Statuary, China, Glass, Writing Sets, Smoking Sets, Japanese Goods, Brass Goods, Water Color Paintings, Bric-a-brac and many other articles.

For the purpose of closing these goods out quick we are making a bonafide reduction of 1-4 to 1-2 of Former Prices.

These goods will make the finest of Christmas presents and we advise you to call at once and make your selections and goods will be held for you until Christmas if you wish.

ALVA L. HEMMENS IS

Alva L. Hemmens, chief clerk at the forms the Gazette that the report that he has sold his residence on Cherry street and is about to leave with his rourous. He has not disposed of his

HALF A CENTURY OF SUCCESS

When the late Reverend Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., recommended to his parishioners and friends the prescription that had restored him to health and strength, the people named it Father John's Medicine, and so it became known and was advertised, with his knowledge and approval. The prescription of an eminent specialist, it is pure and wholesome, and free from poisonous narcotics or nerve deadening drugs in any form—not a patent medicine. Its power to make strength and build up the body explains why it has been so successful for fifty years in curing colds and all throat and lung troubles.

LITTLE RAILROAD
WOULD COME HERE

WANTS TO EXTEND ITS LINE FROM CAMBRIDGE TO JANESVILLE.

HAS BIG NAME ANYWAY

Is Out Four Miles Long But Officially Known as Chicago & Lake Superior Road.

Running from Cambridge to London, a distance of four miles, is the little railroad of the state. It has the high sounding title of the Chicago & Lake Superior Roadway and carries both freight and passengers to and from Cambridge, which has no other railroad connections, and London, where the North-Western touches.
Now the ambitious owners would extend the line to Rockdale, thence to Albion and on to Edgerton with Janesville as its southern terminus. In all twenty-five miles of extension is proposed and the owners claim that it can be done during this next year.

All Around Executive B. L. Delamater, who is president, manager, board of directors, general utility man and all around high magnet of the Chicago & Lake Superior line, says the proposed route of the first extension to Rockdale has already been surveyed and the grade stake are in place. It is generally understood that as soon as spring breaks forth work on this extension will begin without delay. The other extension, it is said, hinges to some extent on the success of the first one.

The Rates
Under the two-cent fare law all roads that make $2.50 per mile per year are forced to carry passengers for two cents per mile. This provision lets the Chicago & Lake Superior railway out. It costs twenty-five cents to ride via this line from London to Cambridge. But even at that interesting rate one feels that the presence of this line is a great accommodation, for it would be far from planning to drive the distance in the winter.

Were Ambitious
The Chicago & Lake Superior railroad connects with all trains of the Chicago & North-Western railroad at London. The original promoters of this road intended it for a trunk line from Lake Superior to Chicago and part of the survey was made, when work was abandoned. In 1887 the line was built from London to Cambridge, but as near as can be learned proved an unprofitable piece of property.

Delamater Owner
In 1905 it was purchased by B. L.
Delamater, who represented over twenty years' experience in railway work and management. He was with both the St. Paul and Rock lines and was for several years manager of the Mattoon railroad. He is thoroughly practical in all the details of railroad management and not only can tell how things ought to be done, but can do them himself, from telegraphing to running the engine.

Is a Success
He applied this knowledge and energy to this line and has made it a success, which guarantees the property that in the near future it will be extended to other points. It is possible that the ambition of its early promoters will in time be realized.

Timely discovery by relatives, that the room occupied by Mrs. Edward was all that saved her from death by asphyxiation one night this week. The unfortunate woman was unconscious not believed that she will sustain any permanent ill effects as the result of

New York Fashions

Strolling up Broadway and Fifth avenue, through 23d street and above all 34th street, it is difficult to realize the financial stress that is upon the country. Displays in the shop windows were never more gorgeous; emporiums thronged the most important deposits of fashion, purchasing with the utmost carelessness, costume for three or four hundred dollars; two opera houses are packed at every performance, at one theatre seats are selling six weeks in advance, and yet one hour on all sides of monetary difficulties. Truly "the times are out of joint."

A New Fabric.
Notwithstanding such perplexities, the new Paquin satin is meeting with great favor, suitable alike (according to color) for dinner, reception or evening wear. It now seems probable that the genuine oversilk will be upon us next season, its approach being heralded by the tulle effect noticeable on some imported costumes. In Prings is the latest development in trimmings, and a tulle edged with deep fringe, induces one to believe that the wonder is just from Paris.

A Black Costume.
A black chiffon velvet costume shown by a dressmaker of high repute, has a very long, full underskirt and tulle, devoid of trimming. The waist is in Princess-Empire style, with a low-necked Eton over a white lace yoke made of gilt with touches of black velvet, and drawn tight to the figure. A wide band of gilt embroidered in roses, is laid across the white yoke, giving the square neck effect. The kimono sleeves are of gilt tulle, embroidered in gun metal, and gilt stimulating lace roses, and bordered by black velvet. White figured net sleeves are below the kimono, edged by narrow gilt trimming, with a standing ruffle of narrow black lace. Between the high, white lace collar and the upper edge of the corset-like Eton, narrow gilt trimming and black lace form a sort of col-larette.

Color Combinations.
Color and line are stylishly blended in a Paquin satin of the former hue, the skirt trimmed with two wide folds of the material in the "hilo and sock" style, that is to say, the folds are seen only at intervals, and full, longwavy drapings fill up the alternate spaces. The waist is simple, cut to the belt line at the back over white lace, and a blue embroidered band across the front is in keeping with the kimono sleeves, also embrodered in blue. The under sleeves (of white lace) have on the outside two blue satin bows, caught at the center by small gilt buckles.

A Beautiful costume worn at an opera matinee, consisted of a coral colored satin underdress, with black net and panels of black chiffon above, the latter formed of loose folds, the lower edge finished by deep fringe and falling over a band of briding on the black net, fully twelve inches wide, with a black satin facing below. Waist was surmounted with a silver net yoke and brooches of coral satin folds, an embroidered band, and chiffon edged by deep fringe; were crossed over a circle of black and coral satin. A graceful looping of colored satin folds at the left side of the waist gave an additional touch of color.

A New Departure.
On one of two imported costumes, an independent drapery of the material, covered the fastening of the skirt at the back, always more or less of a problem, and quite a number of dressmakers have adopted this novelty. High neck (at least a high neck yoke) is in general favor, and it is only at the opera that extreme low-neck are seen. Collars are very high, a boon to the middle-aged beauty.
Mouquettier sleeves have entered into competition with the short sleeve, therefore the logical conclusion is that both will be more in favor than gilt lace.

A Gray Costume at the Opera.
A pinkish gray net, over gray satin with crosswise panels of gunmetal embroidery, was lightened by touches of coral-colored satin folds with cord passementerie and pendants of a similar shade. All colors are worn, but Copenhagen blue and coral lead.
Opera Cloaks and Capes.
Broadcloth in white or the pastel shades is the favored material for evening cloaks, and brand is the trimming. Either in the wide, flat styles, or else narrow brand is rolled together and passed over the shoulders, with cord passementerie and pendants on the shoulders, back and front. Contrasting vests are quite general in the newest cloaks, either of Persian embroidery, or velvet with French dots. Shapes are loose, especially sleeves of the exaggerated kimono order. Large capes are also seen at the opera, with wide silks for the arms and these also are elaborately trimmed with braid.

men were at work repairing a bad break in the trolley at the intersection of Main and Milwaukee streets and traffic west of the river was blocked for the Milton avenue, Forest Park, and Main street cars. The interrupted schedule, however, was promptly resumed with the first ward car running back and forth from the cemetery and depot, with the point of transfer shifted from the latter place to the scene of the break.

BOWLING TEAMS ARE NOW BEING FORMED
Janesville May Have Several Match Games Between Local Teams and Outside Cities.
Bowling promises to take a decided boom this winter and several leagues are being formed with an idea of securing games with outside teams as well as inter-league teams in the city.
The police department are said to be contemplating organizing a team and for their first opponents would pick out the printers. Several teams are being organized at Hockett's alleys on North Main street and Manager Hockett states that games with outside teams may be arranged later in the winter. At the Y. M. C. A. alleys members have already several picked teams and several more are to be organized after Christmas.

LAYING OFF MEN ON THE TWO RAILROADS

Retrenchment in the Order of the Day on Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Lines.

Both the Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roads have begun a series of retrenchment in their operating divisions. Some time ago the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road laid off the majority of their section hands employed on divisions confined in Janesville, thirty in number, retaining only the foreman. It is now reported that the Northwestern has laid off twenty-two brakemen running out of Chicago. Never in the history of some of the oldest employees in the local yards has the freight been so slack as it is at present at this time of the year.

ANNUAL MAIL BAG
FOR SANTA CLAUS

Janesville Little People, Can Write Their Patron Saint Care of the Gazette.

Following the usual custom the Gazette will forward to Santa Claus the letters of the Janesville little people this year. Already some of the Saint's little believers have sent their letters in care of the Gazette and more are asked for. In order that they may reach him in time for Christmas they must be sent to the Gazette office before December 18th. The sure and write plainly, on one side of the paper, and if left at the office or mailed should be addressed to Santa Claus, care of the Gazette. Perhaps he will not bring everything you ask for but as he has many little people to visit and his reindeer are swift, it will help him to have your letter so he may know what you want. Every little boy and girl in the county can send their letters to the Gazette and they will be placed in old Santa's mail bag for them. A two cent stamp on letters mailed is necessary so that it reaches us safely. Write early so that the letters will reach us in time.

FIVE STILL ALARMS
SINCE THANKSGIVING

Last One Summoned Department to Mackin Flats, Corner of Dodge and High Streets, Yesterday Afternoon.

Since Thanksgiving Day five still alarms have been rung in for the fire department. In no instance has the fire been a serious one and the serious damage has been small. The most recent alarm was sent in yesterday afternoon to summon the firemen to the Mackin flats, corner of Dodge and High streets, where a chimney blaze kept them busy for a few minutes.

To Stop Piles Try This.

Piles get instant relief, when Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment is applied. It's a Pile Cure, remember, and it is good for anything else whatever except piles.
General Ointment, for many uses, can possibly cure piles. A pile ointment must be directed specifically toward piles alone.
Says Dr. Shoop, "I make three valuable ointments, and yet, one only—Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment—will bring help to pile sufferers." Even then, in old chronic cases, originating because of a torpid liver, with biliousness, I prescribe Dr. Shoop's Restorative Internally while using Magic Ointment locally or externally. Keep in mind this fact, please, that the large blood vessels of the liver originate in the walls of the rectum, where piles arise. Obstruct these vessels in the liver and piles instantly appear. Dr. Shoop's Restorative corrects stomach and liver sluggishness, hence its value as an aid to Magic Ointment in the treatment of obstinate cases of piles.
None genuine without Dr. Shoop's name on the package. Sold at 50 cents by Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women wean and wall and refuse news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newb's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antipruritic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair de-made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has
